PITTSBURGH, Jan. 9.—(INS)—Hit-and-run strikes idles an estimated 43,000 soft coal miners in six states today.

Observers called the shut-down a special tactic of the United Mine Workers to force coal operators to sign new contracts. Last week about 16,000 Illinois diggers were idle.

Miners in Pennsylvania, Alabama, Kentucky, West Virginia, Virginia and Ohio have been affected by the shutdowns.

New Technique
Some sources said UMW Chief-tan John L. Lewis would use the scattered strike technique to harass operators and reduce further the supply of coal above ground. They said Lewis has selected targets which he would hit with strikes systematically, week after week.

Thirty-six mines, employing just over 20,500 and producing 110,000 tons daily, have been affected in western Pennsylvania, according to Harry A. Sutter, executive vice president of the Western Pennsylvania Coal Operators Association. Chief targets in the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company, world's largest commercial producer, and H. C. Frick Coke Company, a U. S. Steel Corporation subsidiary.

U. S. Steel claimed its "captive" mines are closed in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Kentucky with 15,000 idle.

Pa. News learns of a New Castle citizen, who during the past year, has been somewhat of a statistical church goer. During 1949, he attended church 42 times, all of them different ones, and heard 51 sermons by ministers and one by a layman. Seven denominations were visited, located in eight surrounding counties, and four states. This church attendance entailed driving 397 miles on 32 Sundays. On four occasions, church was attended while passing through town. His informant states he also has a perfect church attendance for 1950 to date.

With the new highway from Lawrence county line to Butler now in operation, it is noted that quite an extensive system of making the change from the Perry Highway to the Butler highway is in operation, near the old Dixie Inn intersection.

New Castle and Lawrence county area escaped the extreme cold weather that arrive in the north-east and eastern parts of the nation over the week end.

Makes Farewell Speech To U. S.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—In farewell speech to U. S. Mme. Chiang Kai-shek vowed Sunday China would yet be free and said she would join her husband on Formosa to fight Communism "as long as breath remains in us, and with faith in the Almighty". She hinted return to Formosa may peril her life.

Madame Chiang Bitter
Against Western Nations

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(INS)—Madame Chiang Kai-shek has bitterly condemned "moral weakness" of the west who have abandoned China and pledged that, with or without U. S. aid, the struggle against the communists will go on.

In a dramatic farewell broadcast to the U. S., the first lady of China declared: "Russia will never know one day of peace in China. Russia will never own China."

Warns Her Audience
Madame Chiang, preparing to join the generalissimo in his last-ditch stand on the island of Formosa, warned her nation-wide audience:

"It is either in your mind and your will to aid China in her struggle for her liberty, or you have abandoned liberty."

In response to newsmen's questions later on whether she meant her speech as an indictment of President Truman's policy of withdrawal, she said:

"Russia will never know one day of peace in China. Russia will never own China."

Russia asked Gen. Douglas MacArthur to dispatch a ship for the repatriation of 2,500 Japanese military prisoners including 459 hospitalized men.

Gen. MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters announced that the Soviets had asked the repatriation vessel be sent to the Siberian port of Nahodka on Jan. 18.

This was the first time since the war's end that Russia had asked for use of a repatriation ship during the winter.

Bob Hope Hurt In Auto Accident

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Jan. 9.—(INS)—Comedian Bob Hope suffered a dislocated shoulder and a minor cut on the head last night when his car skidded off a rain-slick highway and overturned.

The accident occurred 16 miles east of Riverside while the star was en route back to Hollywood from Palm Springs.

The actor told members of the state highway patrol that he and his script writer, Fred Williams, were "just driving along" when it began to sway and couldn't be controlled.

The car skidded off the road, overturned and hit a walnut tree. Both men were thrown out of the car.

Hope and Williams were picked up by a passing motorist, Sam Crothers, and taken to the Community hospital in Riverside.

Later the comedian was taken in an ambulance to his home in the San Fernando valley.

AT SENATOR TAFT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—(INS)—Congress was urged today to pass a joint resolution demanding that President Truman invoke the Taft-Hartley law to end the coal crisis while 45,000 soft coal miners staged spot strikes in six states.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—John L. Lewis issued a blast against Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, today as mid-west coal dealers appealed for congressional action to put the miners back on a full production schedule.

The United Mine Workers chief, whose men are working only three days a week, tore into Taft as a "flamboyant oppressor of the poor" who wants "to herd the coal miners into the lethal gas chamber" of the Taft-Hartley law.

Taft, who listened to retail coal dealers, said:

"We will not be mixed up in this war."

HARRISBURG, Jan. 9.—(INS)—The 34th annual state farm show, symbolic of Pennsylvania's $300,000,000-a-year agricultural industry, opened today at Harrisburg.

More than a half million spectators, and some farm show commission officials are predicting more than 600,000 visitors will stream through the vast exposition halls during the next five days.

Gov. James H. Duff will be the main speaker tonight on a brief program officially opening the farm show. The colorful state police horse show will follow.

In the biggest variety of exhibits and activities ever assembled for a Pennsylvania farm show will be found the next of Key-stone state products in record-breaking displays, said state agriculture secretary Miles Horst, commission chairman.

Registered for the opening were more than 500 commercial exhibitors and farmers entering more than 10,000 products displays.

Premiums totaling approximately $54,000, largest on record for the show, will be awarded by the commission by the time the last day rolls around.

New York Plan
To Tap Hudson Is Being Considered

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(INS)—New York City's plan to tap the Hudson river for additional water supplies at a probable cost of $5,000,000 comes up for debate today before the city's board of estimate.

The hearing is on a proposal advanced a week ago by V. A. Hule, president of the Board of Water Supply, to draw 100,000,000 gallons daily from the Hudson river below Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

By the terms of the proposal, in times of emergency the water would be drawn into the city stream at the town of Chelsea.

Pumps and purifiers would be constructed as "stand-bys".

(BULLETIN)

HONG KONG, Jan. 9.—Chinese Nationalist navy forces reportedly seized the American freighter Flying Arrow today after shelling and disabling the 6,000-ton ship to prevent it from carrying a 10 million dollar cargo to Communist Shanghai.

Two Nationalist gunboats which trailed the Isbrandtsen Line steamer for 36 hours after it left Hong Kong reportedly scored more than 30 hits on the ship but inflicted no casualties.

Partially Disabled
The ship is reported in unseaworthy condition, guarded by Nationalist gunboats in the mouth of the Yangtze river.

About a dozen shells of the several score fired by the Chinese warships struck the American vessel, damaging the deck and starting a fire.

British Give Aid
The British Frigate Black Swan, which responded to an SOS, sent sailors aboard the U. S. Merchant vessel to help fight the fire. But once the fire was under control, the Black Swan, itself a victim of Communist gunfire on the Yangtze river last April, withdrew.

Capt. A. H. Jay, of the British vessel, reportedly told the captain of the Flying Arrow, David Jones:

"We will not be mixed up in this war."

Two Still Missing

At Davenport, Ia.

Probe Disaster Which Caused
38 Known Deaths—
Origin Of Fire Unknown

DAVENPORT, Ia., Jan. 9.—(INS)—Firemen scoured the charred ruins of Davenport's Mercy hospital today for two patients missing and presumed dead in a fire in which 38 bodies already have been recovered.

The search was underway as a three-pronged investigation of the cause of the blaze was launched by the city, county and state officials.

Authorities have not yet determined the cause of the fire which broke out early Saturday, trapping aged and infirm women patients behind barred windows of the mental ward of the hospital.

But fire authorities are checking the possibility that a defective wire in a floor lamp or radio was responsible.

Fire Chief Lester Schick said there was little hope of finding any traces of the two missing patients as a preliminary check indicated their bodies were destroyed in the all-consuming blaze.

Coroner C. H. Wildman said 19 of the bodies recovered have been identified positively.

Two runs went to Davenport's mortuaries yesterday to aid in the grim task of identification.

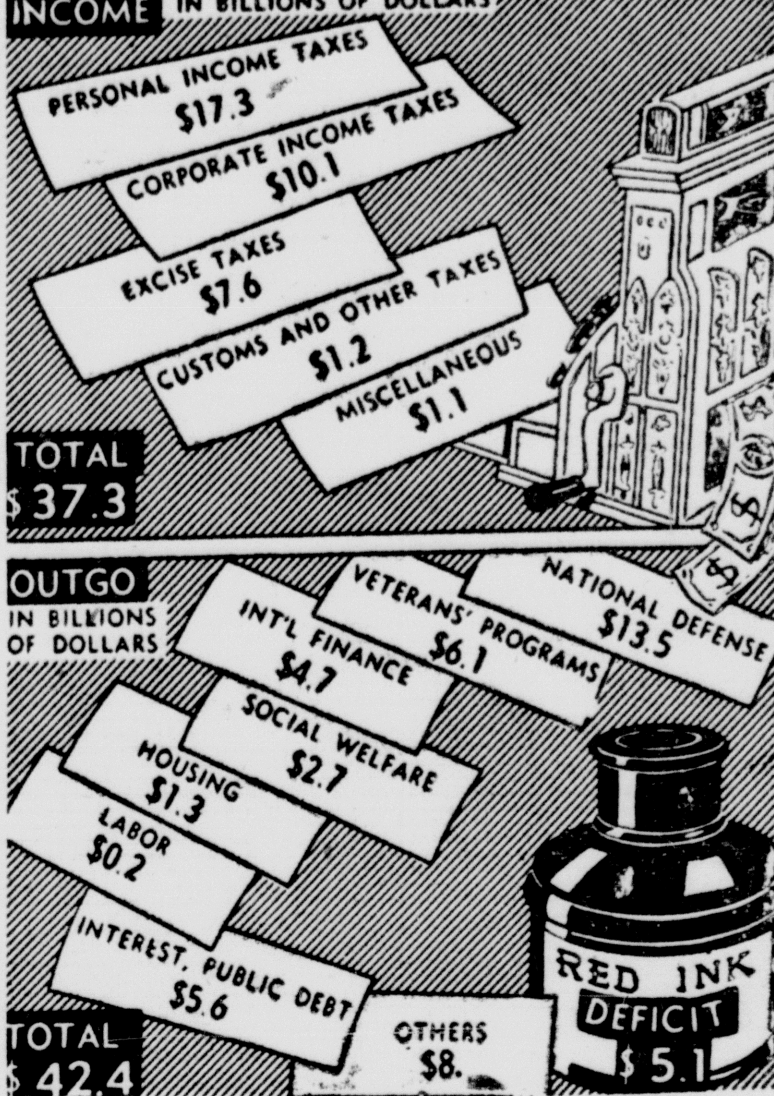

Wildman said many of the bodies probably never will be identified because they were charred beyond recognition.

The fire apparently broke out in the central part of the 70-year-old structure near a fire escape. Flames mushroomed swiftly through the building before hospital workers could rescue many of the patients.

Double Execution Takes Place At

BELLEFONTAINE, Pa., Jan. 9.—(INS)—Roaring charges of lethal electricity early today snuffed out the lives of Ray H. Simmons, 26, and Edward DePofi, 24, in Pennsylvania's first double execution in two years.

They were the first doomed men to die in the electric chair at Rockview penitentiary on the same night since Delaware county killers Charles Moyer and William Paul Byron were electrocuted Oct. 6, 1947.

Simmons, a Mechanicsburg (Adams county) resident who made a desperate bid for freedom by breaking out Dauphin county jail while awaiting sentence, died for the claw hammer murder of Herbert Humphert, 70-year-old Gettysburg farmer, in March, 1947.

DePofi's life was erased in penalty for the pistol slaying near Pittsburgh of Bethel township policeman John Chylinski in March, 1948, when the patrolman surprised DePofi looting an unoccupied house.

It took state executioner Frank L. Wilson of Pittsburgh only eight minutes to jolt life from the young slayers.

Simmons died first, at 12:31 a. m., and DePofi was pronounced dead at 12:39 a. m.

SPECIAL MESSAGE
ON TAXES TO COME

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—President Truman submitted to Congress today a 42.5 billion dollar budget which contemplated a five billion dollar deficit and deficit financing for several years to come.

It was the largest peacetime deficit ever forecast by a chief executive in his annual budget message and was in addition to an estimated 5.5 billion dollar deficit for the current fiscal year.

Mr. Truman termed them "temporary deficits" and assured Congress that they were not impairing the nation's strength and were

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—(INS)—Here is a breakdown in the "budget dollar" for the 1951 fiscal year showing where the money comes from and where it goes:

Where it comes from—41 cents, direct taxes on individuals; 23 cents, direct taxes on corporations; 18 cents, excise taxes on consumers for goods and services; 12 cents, from new taxes and borrowing; 6 cents, customs, other taxes.

Where it will go—32 cents, national defense; 15 cents, veterans; 13 cents, interest on the public debt; 11 cents, international; six cents, social welfare, health and security; 23 cents, all other governmental activities.

needed to meet "our present great responsibilities" in a world in which "the threat of aggression still exists."

Expects To Balance Budget
The president predicted that the federal budget would be balanced "in the next few years" through:

(1) Reductions in government costs.

(2) A growing national economy which will produce increased revenues.

(3) Tax revision which will result in additional government income after 1951.

Unlike last year, when he urged Congress to increase taxes four billion dollars a year to balance the budget, Mr. Truman included no specific plans for sizeable new sources of revenue.

He said nothing about reducing excise taxes nor did he specifically state that he would recommend an increase in other levies. He will submit a special tax message outlining his views to Congress later this week.

Meets Realities
The president termed his 1,198-page fiscal document "an honest budget which meets the realities which face us". He added that it would enable the federal government to carry out "essential activities" for the 1951 fiscal year which begins July 1.

Since 1930 only the 1947 and 1948 fiscal year budgets have been balanced. The new deficits for the 1950 and 1951 fiscal years will (Continued on Page Eight)

Auto Insurance Rate Reduction Now In Effect

HARRISBURG, Jan. 9.—(INS)—An average statewide reduction of 10.4 per cent of rates charged Pennsylvania car and truck owners for fire, theft and collision insurance became effective Monday.

Insurance Commissioner James F. Malone Jr. said an agreement was reached by the National Automobile Underwriters Association for the 282 companies licensed to do business with the commonwealth after investigation revealed the firms were having "better experiences on losses."

About 50 to 55 per cent of the state's auto owners carry some type of insurance.

Malone said the revision was made on a territorial basis and reduction varies in several of the eight districts into which the state is divided for rating purposes.

Annual dollar savings to Pennsylvania drivers will total about $4,500,000.

MIDWEST COAL DEALERS PRESENT ACTION APPEAL

merchants from a dozen midwest cities describe a critical coal shortage, has urged President Truman to use the 80-day injunction weapon of the Taft-Hartley law to end the short nine work week imposed by Lewis on December 5.

The coal merchants said the 480,000 soft and hard coal miners must be put back immediately on a full work schedule or people will suffer from lack of fuel.

Rep. Mason (R Ill.) declared angrily that "impachment" is the only remedy he sees to force President Truman to invoke the Taft-Hartley act against Lewis' production slowdown.

Mason, who also met with the coal dealers, declared that the labor law's provisions could be invoked on grounds that the three-day work week is creating a national emergency. He said:

"If we have a law now that is not used, another won't be used. The only remedy I see is impachment—that is the issue."

Lewis declared, however, that the only issue current in the coal industry is whether the miners shall continue to receive $14.05 a day or be paid the union's new contract demand of $15 a day.

The union leader also lashed out at Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, who is considering an appeal of the coal operators that he seek an injunction under the Taft-Hartley act to end the three-day work week.

He stated that he swerved towards the center of the highway, but was unable to avoid striking Mr. Williams. He was not traveling at a high rate of speed, witnesses stated.

Mr. Shenkesy with his wife and baby son Theodore, aged 22 months, were enroute to Ellwood City, to visit a doctor because of their baby's illness. It later went into convulsions, and had to be taken to the Ellwood City hospital for treatment.

Robert Stauffer, aged 75 years, of Enon-Mt. Jackson road, died Sunday at 8:45 p. m. at his home in Little Beaver township after an illness of several months.

Mr. Stauffer, who was born May 8, 1874, in Bern, Switzerland, resided in this community for the past 55 years. Mr. Stauffer, who was a farmer by occupation, had been employed by the State Highway department for the past few years. He was a member of I. O. O. F. Lodge No. 916, Enon Valley.

Survivors are three children: Miss Millie Stauffer, at home, Al and Norman Stauffer, both of Pittsburgh, six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

His wife, nee Mary King, preceded him in death in 1945.

The body will be returned from the W. S. Caskey funeral home to the late residence, where funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at 2 p. m. with Rev. W. F. Byers officiating. Burial will take place in Little Beaver cemetery. Friends may call at the residence at any time after 5 p. m. today.

nounced that the Flying Arrow is now anchored in the mouth of the Yangtze river. Nationalist warships control this area.

Under Nationalist Guard

Jay messaged to Hong Kong that the Flying Arrow is not entirely seaworthy and that he understands it is still under Nationalist guard. He said that he believes the Flying Arrow's captain and the Isbrandtsen Company are appealing to Washington to intervene in order to allow the ship to proceed to the nearest port for repairs.

Since the nearest port is Shanghai, however, it is not believed that the Nationalists will accede to such a request. They are thought more likely to tow the disabled vessel to Formosa.

Calls For "Open Door"

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(INS)—The Isbrandtsen Line called on the State Department today for the maintenance of an "open door" policy in support of its effort to sail ships into ports held by the Chinese Communists.

The shipping line said the United States should "follow the traditional American policies of the open door and free access to the outer world . . . making certain to retain unswervingly our American ideology."

The advertisement warned against the "surrender" of the "open door" doctrine and the "implied franchises . . . for they most assuredly will not be regained easily once they are surrendered."

DRIVER IS HELD

After Vincenzo Novelli, Franklin avenue, drove a car in reverse which struck the car of Converse Bransome, Edgewood avenue, at North Mill and North streets at 6:10 p. m. Sunday, he was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated. The Mayor ordered Acting Chief of Police W. G. McMullen to file a charge of driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated against Novelli.

BATTLE TO SAVE WEAKENED LEVEES ON WABASH RIVER

also are fearful of the peril of the rain-swollen waters.

Fifty convicts from the Putnamville, Ind. state penal farm were called to help sandbag the Indiana side of the Wabash across from Hutsontville, Ill.

Another 25 convicts were pressed into service at Clinton, Ind., and 25 more at Terra Haute, Ind. Both cities are on the Wabash.

The surging river had risen to 27.5 feet at Hutsontville and despite emergency measures there was fear the levees might not hold.

Hutsontville streets already were under two feet of water. Several hundred head of cattle were marooned on farms southwest of the city.

Many Evacuated

All families and livestock in the menaced Indiana area have been evacuated.

At nearby Lawrenceville, Ill., two levees broke yesterday and others were sagging before the constant hammering of the Embarras river.

Soldiers were aiding civilians to strengthen dikes at Lawrenceville where the river is expected to reach a crest of 22 feet by Wednesday.

Indiana state police reported that the Wabash almost had broken through a levee five miles west of Graysville, Ind.

Regular army troops and National Guardsmen worked feverishly to bolster levees at Vincennes, Ind., where the crest of the Wabash was just inches below the top of the 29-foot river wall.

BITTER AGAINST WESTERN NATIONS

holding aid to the Nationalists on Formosa, she said only:

"I think people have imagination."

Madame Chiang was particularly bitter about Britain's recognition of the communists which, she said, has led "into a wilderness of intrigue."

"For Shame" To Britain

"Britain has bartered the souls of a nation for a few pieces of silver . . .

"I say, 'for shame' to Britain, for one day these pieces of silver will bear interest in British blood, sweat and tears on the battleground of freedom. For that which is morally wrong can never be right."

Termining China's struggle now "the initial phase of a gigantic conflict between good and evil, between liberty and communism," she declared:

"China, abandoned and alone, now shoulders the only rifle in defense of liberty. The world is divided between liberty and communism."

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

The long-range realism traditional and inherent in British foreign policy was demonstrated amply by London's recognition of Communist China.

This move, certain to be followed by other major nations of Europe and the world, has created dismay in certain Washington political circles.

It also is being emphasized as the first major cleavage in joint Anglo-American foreign policy since the war, despite the firm belief in many quarters that the United States will be more or less compelled by the pressure of events to follow suit.

Devoid of Surprise

To international observers, however, the British action was entirely devoid of surprise.

It is sometimes forgotten that the British government, unlike that of the United States, is somewhat seriously divided into two sections.

One consists of the party chosen by the people in general elections. The other is a permanent organization, unchanged and unchanging, which functions behind closed doors, reckons the mistakes of the past, plans for the years ahead and formulates policies which invariably are adopted by the regime in power, be it conservative, labor, liberal or coalition.

For example, Ernest Bevin, certainly an ardent Socialist, is His Majesty's secretary of state for foreign affairs.

It is Bevin therefore who presents himself to the people, to Parliament and King George to outline departures or continuity in foreign policy, as the case may be, and it is he who shoulders the blame when any decision proves unpopular.

Hardly Known to Public

But deep inside the rambling old Foreign Office on Whitehall sits a man who is not elected, is not a politician and is hardly known to the public.

His title is permanent undersecretary of state for foreign affairs and he is a civil servant of the Crown. In this case the official is Sir William Strang, an old-line diplomat who is a conservative by training and by taste although his post ostensibly is part of the labor government.

The title of "permanent" is somewhat misleading as these officials have resigned. As a matter of fact Sir William's predecessor, Lord Vansittart, is now something of an "elder statesman" who has warned repeatedly against traffic with Communism just as he for so many years emphasized the dangers of Nazism.

Generally, however, the permanent undersecretary remains at his post for many years at a time. Each has inherited policies from his predecessors, who date back to the times when Britain's king was an autocratic monarch and his policies decided by a tight little privy council of bishops and belted earls.

Britain Protects Interests

Thus it was inevitable that Britain would continue to protect her interests in China and the whole Far East no matter what parties were in power.

The last lingering doubt that Britain might extend the dignity of recognition to Mao Tse-tung and his regime in Peking disappeared when Prime Minister Pandit Nehru of India took the initiative in this respect days ago.

By recognizing the Communists, Nehru asserted the independence of his own dominion. But at the same time, he indirectly flashed word to London that his vast domain had accepted the Communist upsurge in the Orient as an accomplished fact and was adopting a businesslike attitude.

The British government admits that hostile criticism from the United States was to be expected.

But in the same breath, it admits that the billion dollars of British money invested in banks, mills, factories and mines in China simply cannot be ignored.

The British people themselves long have been geared to a policy of looking far ahead and accepting an unpleasant situation for the present if it promises to be the most beneficial for the future.

Their chief opposition to the recognition probably will arise from memories of His Majesty's sloop Amethyst, which was fired on repeatedly by Communist guns in the Yangtze river with heavy casualties but this will be accepted in times as one of those "fortunes of war" which Britain has undergone and surmounted throughout the ages.

Just Folks

AMBITION

"Some day I want to be rich," he said.

"Of money I'll work for a till full."

Another lad said with a toss of his head:

"I want to be clever and skillful."

A third and a fourth and a fifth ad told.

What they held as their chief ambition.

And hoped to become as the years unfold.

Each wanting some high position.

But another boy said: "It seems to me,

Since the lesser failures shame us,

There is something more for a man to be

Than clever or rich or famous.

"I'd like to be rich, and I'd like to be great,

But wherever I may be going, I would rather become, whatever my fate,

The sort of a man worth knowing."

Health Talks

By DR. W. A. WOMER
City Health Superintendent

HOW DO YOU LIKE YOUR CHICKEN?

Some people like their chicken dead. Others like their chicken alive.

A cute little chicken with goo-goo eyes and lots of oomph is a joy forever.

The health department is pretty much interested in the feathered kind.

Some people like to raise chickens. A chicken coop is not very welcome in a built-up neighborhood. Chickens have some habits which do not make them welcome to the neighbors.

Horse stables and cow stables and chicken coops are not at all popular in a well-kept city.

A few years ago there were a lot of chickens in the city. They have gone out of style and are not permitted any more.

Perhaps stables and chicken coops are on the way out, too.

Cock-a-doodle-doo.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

I must be an awful dumbbell! To me the Constitution has always been a sacred document. The Bill of Rights ranks second only to the Bible in that simple mind of mine.

When I sing "The Star-Spangled Banner"—and all of us certainly have to sing it often enough—I sing it with sincerity.

Or, at least I have been sincere about it—up to now.

"O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave

O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?"

O say, gentlemen of Washington, DOES that star-spangled banner yet wave over our Consulate in Mukden, or have the Chinese Reds torn it down and trampled upon it?

"No refuge could save the hireling and slave

From the terror of flight or the gloom of the grave."

Or can any horde of hirelings, any country of slaves arrest our citizens unpunished in this new age of ours and spit on our flag without any other retaliation than an "angry" little note from our State Department?

Yes, I must be an awful dumbbell!

Up until now I have always thought that "Yankee Doodle" was just a funny little song that cheered the ragged soldiers of the Revolution.

But I wonder whether, as things

State Of The Nation

Two Party System Reviving

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Whether by accident or design, two pairs of Republicans recently spoke out on widely-separated subjects and managed to reach identical conclusions. When Republicans agree, that's news.

One pair was young. They were Philip Wilkie, son of the 1940 GOP presidential candidate, and John Tope, chairman of the Young Republican National Federation. Both young men used the same term to express the Republican vision of America's future. The term they used was "state of opportunity."

Slogans don't win elections and ghost-writers have more than one client, but it's quite a coincidence just the same. "Opportunity State vs. Welfare State" is a pretty good way to dramatize the party battles which are forming for the 1950's. If Wilkie and Tope didn't think up the expression, they should have. Young men are supposed to have bright ideas.

See Eye to Eye on Debt

Another place where Wilkie and Tope saw eye to eye was on the meaning of a top-heavy national debt. Both charged that the Democratic over-spending was placing a back-breaker of a burden on the young generation. This is a fairly obvious observation, but the bright young Republicans of Only Yesterday—Harold Stassen and Thomas Dewey—never quite hammered it home. In 1948 Stassen did murmur something about trimming farm subsidies, but Candidate Dewey promptly straddled that painful issue. And Dewey, never willing to take a chance on criticizing the Democratic foreign policy, could not tell us how he was going to save money in case he became president.

Yet only 14 months after the 1948 election, we have a Congress which seems to be fed up on the spending spree. All signs point to a slashing of Marshall Plan funds and a thumbs-down on the expensive Brannan farm plan. In short, it seems that the young Republicans of only yesterday missed the bus, whereas their younger brothers of today are ready to climb aboard a vehicle that's not marked "Me-too."

First Heads-Up Review

Philip Wilkie's pronouncement, in Collier's Magazine, was the first heads-up review of GOP history which has appeared for years. He had no apology—only praise—for the Old Guard which marched between Lincoln and Hoover. Here again, Wilkie departs from the GOP youth of yesterday. Dewey and Stassen avoided speaking of the Old Guard as if those political ancestors lived in the forest primeval, swinging their spears by the tails. Lincoln and Hoover were men, not McKinley, not Harrison, Garfield and the like. Wilkie comes not to bury the dead Republican past, but to resurrect it in modern terms. As he points out, it is the Democrats who have been living in the past all these years—the past that ended with the crisis years of depression and war.

John Tope, whose pronouncement was a routine handout from Republican headquarters, doesn't have Wilkie's gift of expression or habit of clear thought. He flogs the Democrats with a listful of threadbare clichés. But this plump young man from Detroit has a certain energy and indignation about him which are refreshing. Last year he came near stealing the show at the utterly dreary Republican National Committee meeting. That wasn't much of a feat, but Tope had an air of leadership about him which will bear watching.

Turning to Other Pair

Turning now to the other pair, we find that Senator Taft and former President Hoover, without apparent collaboration, came out almost simultaneously for a strong Far Eastern policy. Both of them suggested that the U. S. use the Navy to keep the Chinese Communists from capturing Formosa.

The two men were actually enunciating an old Republican foreign policy—the Big Stick—in Far Eastern affairs. Each comes quite naturally by his Big Stick beliefs. Senator Taft's father was governor general of the Philippines in the days of Manifest Destiny. Mr. Hoover, of course, made a fortune by prospecting in China. It's hard to look upon either man as the proper spokesman in these days when imperialism is in such disrepute. Yet if the Taft-Hoover ideas represent a wrong policy, the administration shilly-shally about the Far East represents no policy at all. Usually it's better to try something than to be caught, as we were at Pearl Harbor, doing nothing.

And the two sets of GOP spokesmen do suggest that there's a spirit of protest abroad in the land. This time last year, as the 81st Congress met, the two party system was thought to be breathing its last. Not so as 1950 gets under way. There's life in the old carcass yet. Folks Of Fame

A much beloved stage actress of two decades ago, May Irwin was born June 27, 1862, in Whitby, Ontario, Canada. She made her debut in Buffalo in February, 1876; was a member of Tony Pastor's company and then with Charles Frohman in "Junior Partner." "His Wedding Day," "Poets and Puppets," and "A Straight Tip" with James T. Powers. Starring roles were in "The Widow Jones," "The Swell Miss Fitzwell," "Sister Mary," etc. Her last plays were "Widow by Proxy," "No. 36 Washington Square," "On the Firing Line" and "The Water's Fine." She died October 22, 1938.

DeWitt Clinton was an American political leader, and was born March 2, 1769, at Little Britain, N. Y. He was graduated from Columbia college and admitted to the bar. He became a dominant figure in politics and a member of the United States Senate, but resigned to become mayor of New York City, an office he held 10 years. At one time he was a candidate for the presidency, but was beaten by James Madison. He was a member of a commission to explore a route for a canal between Lake Erie and the Hudson river, in 1810, but the War of 1812 interrupted the project. When war ended, however, he was elected governor of the state, and the work was carried through. With the building of this canal his name is most popularly associated.

WASHINGTON—President Truman: "Our economy can and must continue to grow within five years we can achieve an annual output in excess of 300 billion dollars. The gain in national income would be equal to an average of nearly $1,000 for every family."

WASHINGTON—Senator Wherry, Nebraska, Republican whip: "It is my wonder that the Truman administration, which champions spendthrift Socialism at home, is so tolerant of it abroad and so eager to use the American taxpayer's money to support Socialism in Great Britain?"

Great Game Of Politics

Unpleasant Prospect Is Faced

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9. PERHAPS it may help the ordinary citizen to understand what may be expected of the session of Congress just begun if he will reflect upon a remark made early last year by Senator Arthur Vandenberg, of Michigan. Speaking to a personal friend shortly after he had announced that he would not be a candidate to succeed himself in 1953 but intended to retire to private life, Senator Vandenberg made a singularly frank and illuminating statement.

UNTIL after he had announced his retirement, he said, he had never fully realized how inescapably the thought of the political effect upon himself of what he said and how he acted in the Senate was with him. He had, he thought, been reasonably independent and voted as he felt and believed. Nevertheless, always in the back of his mind there was the thought of "How is this going to affect me in Michigan?" "Now," said the Senator, "for the first time I have no such thought. Instead, I have a sense of beautiful freedom which I never had before. And I am deeply enjoying it."

CONCEDEDLY, Senator Vandenberg is one of the most high-minded, courageous and intelligent men in American public life. Therefore, it is easy to believe that so far as a majority of the members of this Congress are concerned, their consideration of how their votes and words are going to affect them politically is not in the back of their minds, but well up in front. In fact, it is so large a consideration with the bulk of them that there is in their minds little room for anything else. Considering the character of our politics, the power of the pressure groups and the weight which universal suffrage gives to ignorance and prejudice, it is not only natural for members of Congress to function this way but almost inevitable. And there is little that can be done about it except to hope that back in the states and districts public sentiment in favor of sound measures and in opposition to unsound ones may develop. Without that kind of sentiment there isn't very much hope for us.

NATURALLY, however, the closer the session of Congress is to election day, the more pronounced becomes the condition above described. This session starts only ten months before the November election in which every member of the House and one third of the Senate must be re-elected if he wants to stay in public life. The primaries, in which most of them must be renominated and which for some are a more difficult test to survive than the general election, are held at intervals beginning in April and ending in September. With the many controversial and complex matters with which this Congress must deal, there is every reason to believe it will be at least July and possibly later before it adjourns—in other words, it will run almost up to the election.

THUS, it is plain that this final session of the Eighty-first Congress will be steeped in politics clear to its eyeballs. With the exception of Senator Vandenberg, with his new and beautiful sense of freedom, and a very few others, like Senator Harry Byrd, of Virginia, who never lets that thought of "how is this going to affect me in Virginia?" get beyond the back of his mind, every member of the House and Senate is going to speak and vote primarily with the view to helping himself politically back in his state or district. Not one of them will knowingly or willingly vote or speak in a way to offend any considerable number of voters back home. There is no question about that. Hardly any will deny it. Nor is this political situation confined to the Capitol. It is equally intense at the White House. Mr. Truman, with his eyes and thoughts on re-election in 1952, is deeply concerned in Democratic victory at the polls next fall. So are all his advisers, aides, speech writers and gag men.

WITHOUT exception, they grasp the fact that if the Democrats lose control of Congress at the coming election, in all probability the Republicans will elect the President in 1952. That thought is in the front of every White House mind, and every White House word and deed reflects it. The whole presidential program, as outlined in his message to Congress and elaborated by the administration publicity agencies is conceived, framed and presented first with the view to retaining Democratic control. The question of whether it benefits the country is entirely subordinate. This may seem a harsh thing to say, but the proof is overwhelming. There are no Vandenberg and no Byrds in the Truman entourage. If there is any one either of the "inner circle" or on its fringe with that "beautiful sense of freedom," his name is not known.

ADDING all this up, it should be clear to anyone that the chances of anything being done or considered at this session strictly on its merits is practically zero. If the right prevails, it will be by luck or accident, not by design nor because it is right. The political saturation will be complete. This applies, of course, to the Republicans as well as the Democrats. Every policy and every program will be politically based. The thought of the election just ahead will tinge almost every speech and vote. Candor and sincerity will be conspicuously absent. The labor lobby, the farmers' lobby, the veterans' lobby and the extremely powerful Federal jobholders' lobby will be more active and more potent than before. The efforts for economy will be largely synthetic; the increased taxes—if any—will avoid the voting groups. The whole show will be tawdry and unpleasant. It is a pretty poor prospect, but there is no sense in not facing realities. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan
(By International News Service)

Conditions are normal in Washington . . . the president is going ahead with his Civil Rights plan and the Census Bureau is going ahead with its plan to invade those we have left.

They're going to ask every 10th citizen about his income and if he refuses to answer they'll send him to federal prison, and if it's Danbury I hope I'm a 10th man always wanted to get into a good dues-free country club.

Ex-Rep. Parnell Thomas is the only prisoner who ever complained that he didn't enjoy life at Danbury but those Republicans are always complaining about something.

Why James Michael Curley arrived at Danbury in an ambulance and in a year's time was out and well enough to address the Democratic National Convention!

Of course not everyone can get into Danbury . . . you've got to have references. Even Gen. Myers and ex-Rep. Andrew May couldn't make it on their splendid convictions.

State Police Say:

Perhaps if you operator's license cost $50.00 a year you would be much more appreciative of your privilege to drive. Many drivers who have taken their driving pretty much for granted, and have not accepted their share of responsibility for traffic safety, have learned the hard way that their operating privileges can be withdrawn for any violation of the Vehicle Code. Perhaps you consider speeding or crashing a STOP sign inconsequential things, but for such violations you may forfeit your privilege to drive. If you drive an automobile in any way to earn your livelihood, your license has a monetary value many hundreds of times the $1.00 you pay for it.

The Timid Soul

BY H. T. WEBSTER

PERON PROPAGANDA

Coincident with the controversy over whether the Russian embassy's fancy "Bulletin" shall be allowed in schools and libraries in this country, to which it is being sent, the latest issue of a quarterly called "Argentina" has been widely circulated.

Like the Soviet bulletin this is an impressive-looking job (all in English! with excellent photos and typography. It is comprehensive in coverage, containing articles on scenic grandeur, Independence Day, the banking setup, the nationalized oil industry, sports, art, and a definitive piece on Argentina's new constitution.

The new constitution, it says, "embodies in formal law the republic's progress and the changing needs of her people." The 1949 model replaced the original constitution of 1853 which "fitted the requirements of an agricultural country."

The preamble is a conscious—or unconscious—parody of the preamble to the Constitution of the United States. It speaks blithely of "promoting general well being and insuring the benefits of freedom for all men." A noteworthy omission is mention of freedom of speech or the press.

It would be hard to reconcile promises to press freedom with the attitude of President Peron toward the two leading newspapers in the Argentine capital. News dispatches almost daily chronicle the increasing boldness with which Peron is moving to halt the tongues and typewriters of his critics.

The mailing of this periodical to newspapers in the United States is a masterpiece of bad timing. It is bald-faced propaganda and should be labeled as such in large red letters.

VISION OF YEAR 2000 IGNORES TODAY'S ISSUES

As an exercise in high school oratory, President Truman's gaudy picture of a future when the Nation will enjoy untold benefits from technological and scientific advances, and the average family will have three times as much real income as it has today might get a passing grade.

It's long been the province of high school elocutionists to foretell the future with youthful enthusiasm, and to ignore with youthful impracticality the uncertainties and the obstacles to be met on the way.

Mr. Truman, however, continues the Philadelphia Inquirer, can't be accused of complete naivete in telling Congress that in the year 2000 the average family will have tripled its income, and leaving others to figure out that this would mean an income of $12,000 a year.

There is political appeal to the unthinking in this sort of thing. Nobody voting in next November's Congressional elections will be able to say whether the President is wrong in his crystal-gazing, but everybody is supposed to see that he's in favor of average income of $12,000 a year.

High-school style oratory or shrewdly calculated political appeals won't get rid of the obstacles immediately in view, and those obstacles have been enlarged by the hints of President Truman's speech as to his methods of dealing with them—or trying to ignore them.

Mr. Truman says he is for increasing the initiative, enterprise and competition of business. But he would have the Government expand its activities to interfere more with private enterprise, he wants more, not less regulation, and he would slap additional taxes on these businesses which manage to prosper.

If Mr. Truman wishes to advance toward the happy condition he envisions, he should do something to encourage expansion of our free enterprise system—the basis for our jobs and income. Words won't do it, but cutting down the big-Government, big-spending, big-tax trend would help tremendously.

The President has only a remote responsibility for the year 2000 A. D. He has direct and heavy responsibilities for the problems of today. He should tell the Nation precisely how he's going to meet them, not how well off he hopes we will be 50 years hence.

What a relief it would be if one could only see again some government figures in terms of less than a billion dollars.

America hens produced 65,000,000,000 eggs this year. The government will set on many of them and hatch nothing except taxes.

It has long been the popular belief that you couldn't make an egg stand on end. But can't it be done now with Uncle Sam furnishing the support?

Ancient cave men carried a club and was his own government. Now men has gone to the other extreme and wants one government club for everybody.

Uncle Zeke says that careful youth training is all right but it is at times disappointing in its results. For instance, he adds, in his youth Uncle Sam was trained in economy, and now look at him!

It used to be that Bulgaria had more centenarians than any other known country on the globe. But now that the Commies have taken over it is much more difficult for a Bulgarian to live to a ripe old age.

Legion's 'Tide Of Toys' To Be On It's Way Soon

Friendship Notes Will Accompany Five Million Toys To European Kiddies

GIFTS FOR BOYS ARE NEEDED NOW

By CONNIE KNAUBER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—(INS)—The American Legion will soon release a "tide of toys" in Europe in the hopes of stemming the tide of Communism.

Under the Legion's "Operation Tot," more than five million toys will be sent to European children who live in the shadow of the iron curtain.

The veteran's group is currently collecting the toys—all of them new—from youngsters all over the nation. The children have been asked to give at least one of their new Christmas toys to the drive.

Tremendous Response
But more important than the toys themselves, according to the Legion, will be the friendship notes which each American youngster will write and attach to his gift.

Walter E. Alessandrini, director of Operation Tot, explained that the drive was planned "to demonstrate that the generosity and goodwill of the American people is inherent—beginning in childhood."

Legion posts have reported such a great response to the drive that the collection deadline has been extended twice.

The toys will be shipped from Philadelphia through CARE, Inc., but the departure date has not yet been fixed. An airline, however, has volunteered to fly a cargo ship of toys to Europe this week as a "token delivery."

A few problems still confront Alessandrini and his staff. Reports from Legion posts throughout the country indicate that the majority of the toys donated are dolls.

Since the Legion hopes to demonstrate American good will to European boys as well as girls, they hope to rustle up some more gifts for boys.

Money Gifts Acceptable
A spokesman pointed out that the Legion is urging anyone who can't give a toy to give a dollar. One newspaper-radio columnist has already turned in $2,500, and other money donations range from one dollar to $50. Part of this will be used to buy boys' playthings.

The Legion also is a bit worried, the spokesman added, that some "crank" may try to spoil the program by slipping a monkey wrench, in the form of a bomb, into the works. He said the Legion would seek the aid of the federal government in preventing any such mishap.

Any used toys that might be sent in will be fixed, if necessary, and turned over to U. S. orphanages.

The Legion emphasized that only sturdy toys will be accepted. War-like toys, or playthings that must be operated by electric power, will not be sent to Europe.

Cost to Legion $50,000
CARE officials estimated that the ocean freight alone will cost $50,000. More than 200 freight cars will be needed to bring the toys to the port of Philadelphia. Alessandrini said the value of the campaign rests largely on the personal messages.

"We want the European children, who will be tomorrow's leaders, to know of America's good faith and friendliness," he said.

Carlos Fallon, Who Speaks Tuesday Evening, Has Splendid Reputation

CARLOS FALLON

Carlos Fallon, international authority on Pan-American affairs and one of the most entertaining speakers on the American platform today, will be the guest speaker at Tuesday evening's dinner meeting of the New Castle Executives Club, in The Castle. The dinner starts at 6:30 o'clock.

The speaker, a native South American, was the Colombian naval officer, who represented his country's navy at the staff talks in Panama, where the heads of Columbia's armed forces agreed to help defend the Panama Canal.

Now a U. S. citizen, Mr. Fallon visits Latin America regularly to prepare his lectures on the spot, speaking to the people in their native Spanish and Portuguese. The secret of his popularity lies, however, in his technique of presentation. His theory is that a lecture must be fun, and that to be remembered, it must be enjoyed.

His delightful sense of humor is frequently blamed on his Irish forefathers, who came to Columbia at the time of the War of Independence, but Fallon claims that the South Americans have a sense of humor all their own, and that the Spaniard Cervantes is funnier than any English or American writer.

KILLED IN CRASH

HARRISBURG, Jan. 9.—(INS)—William F. Loeffler, 60, of West Fairview was killed early Sunday on the West Shore highway across the river from Harrisburg at a spot known as "Coroner's Corner."

Loeffler was struck by an automobile driven by 20-year-old Forest Yeager of Halifax. The youth was released by state police on his own recognizance.

Loeffler was the fifth victim of motor accidents at the intersection in recent months.

Lawrence Caravan Expects To Send Large Delegation
Annual Conclave

When the Imperial Council, AAONMS, holds its annual conclave in Los Angeles, Calif., June 19 to 22 this year, Lawrence Caravan No. 15, of Syria Temple, expects to be well represented. Dr. E. L. Vincent, the new president, announces.

Arrangements, which were started by Past President P. M. Patterson, are being continued by Mr. Patterson and his committee. A well-planned tour has been arranged for those who would like to attend this session as a group, designed to visit places that many have longed to visit and have never had the opportunity.

These will include the Grand Canyon, Catalina Island, Hollywood and points of interest in and around Los Angeles and San Francisco, then on up to Seattle, Wash., and Victoria, British Columbia.

Arrangements To Be Made
Pullmans have been arranged for to accommodate the pilgrimage, leaving New Castle the evening of June 15. These will follow the central route, with a stopover at the Grand Canyon. After the grand conclave, June 23, the tour will be resumed up the coast to Seattle and Victoria.

The return trip will be made via the northern route, the return here ending late on the evening of June 29. Two Pullmans have been arranged for, which are now about filled, the committee states, and if more desire to go, arrangements must be made within the next two weeks. An exceptionally low price has been secured for the trip, the committee announces.

Trustees, who are in charge of the trip, are: Nobles W. W. McGee, Harry G. Boyd, H. L. Remley and A. W. Tindal.

MENTALLY ILL?
CHICAGO—To help prevent mental illness, try to build up whatever is best in your personality. This is the advice of Mrs. Helen Thompson, a psychiatric social worker, in an article in Hygeia magazine. Most people spend too much time mulling over their own weaknesses and shortcomings, she says. "To safeguard our mental health we need to get turned around the other way. We need to focus on what's best in ourselves. That is the road to emotional health."

County Hospitals Given Approval By Surgeons' College

New Castle And Ellwood City Hospitals Approved By American College Of Surgeons

The American College of Surgeons announced today an Approved List of Hospitals, which includes 3,284 hospitals in the United States, Canada and a few other countries, compared with 3,150 at the end of 1948. The announcement came at the conclusion of the 32nd annual survey conducted by the college under its Hospital Standardization Program.

Of the 3,998 hospitals of 25 or more beds in 1949, the Jameson Memorial hospital and the New Castle hospital of New Castle and the Ellwood City hospital and the Mary Evans Maternity hospital of Ellwood City are listed as approved by the College of Surgeons. Eighty-two per cent of the 3,998 are approved, and of the 3,284 total approvals, 2,981 or 74½ per cent are fully approved and 303 or 7½ per cent are provisionally approved. Every hospital is reconsidered for approval each year.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 9.—The rearmament race is running full speed ahead in Hollywood, harbingers of a new cycle of war flickers.

Demand for battle weapons has reached such an ear-splitting crescendo that the arsenal rental guys are allotting their equipment strictly on a priority-request basis.

Most of the larger film factories maintain their own stockpile of battle gear. But keeping pace with new weapons of war is about as easy as trying to keep abreast of female fashions.

Hard To Tell
One of the most deafening assortment of bombs, mortar blasts and anti-aircraft shells was heard during production of 20th Century-Fox's story of the Eighth Air Force, "Twelve O'Clock High."

The battle scenes were so realistic that army experts serving as technical advisors were hard put to tell the exact point where make-believe warfare left off and War department newsreel footage began.

The battle of Bastogne is the setting for MGM's "Battleground." Explosives detonated in the course of developing the story action actually touched off minor earthquakes in the Culver City area.

One of the most realistic war movies is Republic's "The Sands of Iwo Jima," saga of the slugging U. S. Marines in the Pacific.

In all of these movies there are only minor feminine roles. Adele Mara in "Iwo Jima" and Joyce MacKenzie in "Twelve O'Clock High" have strictly subordinated parts in the films.

Still another Marine Corps story is in the making, but not as yet in script stage, at 20th Century-Fox, where "Halls of Montezuma" is being readied for an all-male cast to be headed by Vic Mature.

On the same lot "Remember, O Remember," also a war drama, is slated to go before the cameras next month.

Over 5,000 Cases Listed By Humane Society In Report

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 9.—(INS)—The 1949 report of the Western Humane Society, a Pittsburgh organization, lists 5,073 cases of cruelty to animals.

Of these, 5,006 were corrected by advice and warnings. During the year the society received 5,073 cases of cruelty to children and 31 examples of cruelty to adults. After investigation, corrections were made.

At the society's free animal clinic, veterinarians treated 653 dogs, 102 cats, one possum and two turtles. Three-hundred and sixty-two dogs and 54 cats were placed in good homes.

The report listed a total budget of $33,339.47.

Beavers Retaliate On Human Molesters

PATTERSON, N. J., Jan. 9.—(INS)—The Beavers of Packack Lake are one up in their war on men—but their victory will be short lived.

Residents of the lake shore, not far from Patterson, N. J., lowered the lake for cleaning, thus disrupting the beavers' living arrangements. The beavers retaliated by gnawing off posts of diving boards.

After a war council, game warden Gene Westervelt announced the new human strategy—the beavers will be trapped, and deported to some other lake.

WEST CONSHOHOCKEN ENDS YEAR IN BLACK

CONSHOHOCKEN, Pa., Jan. 9.—(INS)—West Conshohocken has set up a fiscal target for other Pennsylvania communities.

John Ryan, council president, announced the town ended the year with $435.67 in the treasury. West Conshohocken has, he added, no bonded indebtedness of any kind and not one unpaid bill on its books.

Ohio State Head To Speak At Geneva

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Jan. 9.—President Howard L. Bevis of Ohio State University will deliver the commencement address to the January graduates of Gene college in the college chapel Friday evening, Jan. 27.

Nearly $9,000,000,000 was spent in 1948 for alcoholic beverages in the United States, according to an Aircraft Industries publication.

President Truman Sends His Budget Plan To Congress

boost the public debt from 252 billion, 800 million dollars on June 30, 1949, to 263 billion, 800 million dollars by June 30, 1951, the end of the new fiscal year.

Here is the nation's financial picture in red and black for a three-year period as submitted by the president:

	1949	(Actual)
Receipts	$38,264,000,000
Expenditures	40,057,000,000
Deficit	1,811,000,000
	1950	(Estimated)
Receipts	$37,763,000,000
Expenditures	43,297,000,000
Deficit	5,534,000,000
	1951	(Estimated)
Receipts	$37,306,000,000
Expenditures	42,439,000,000
Deficit	5,133,000,000

If the expense of the government for one year's operation were divided among the nation's 150 million people, it would cost each man, woman and child $253.

How It Is Spent

Of this sum, approximately $90.28 would go for national defense, $40.17 for veterans, $37.64 for interest on the public debt, $31.41 for foreign aid, $18.11 for social welfare and health, $11.32 for transportation and communications, $8.77 for housing, $8.49 for the general costs of government, $2.83 for education and research, $1.70 for labor and $1.42 for finance, commerce and industry.

There were no surprises in the president's budget message, although there was conjecture because no mention was made of the situation in the Orient, where the Chinese communists have taken over the world's most populous country. No funds were included for Chinese aid of any type.

There were the usual gigantic outlays for the military establishment and foreign aid, which have highlighted all postwar budgets, but the only new program advanced by the president was middle income housing. He recommended another year of rent controls and extension of the draft.

What Is Asked

Here is what the president asked in spending authority for the coming fiscal year:

National defense—13 billion, 500 million dollars, an increase of 400 million over the current year.

Foreign aid—4 billion, 711 million dollars, a 20 per cent cut of one billion, 300 million dollars below this year. This amount includes: 3 1/4 billions for the European recovery program and other foreign aid, 645 millions for military assistance, 279 millions for Japan and the Ryukyu islands, and 111 millions for Korea.

Twenty-five million dollars was also requested to launch the "Point IV" program of technical and financial aid to backward areas.

Veterans—Six billion, 80 million dollars for the nation's 19 million veterans and for dependents, a reduction of 825 millions.

Interest on the public debt—Five billion, 625 million dollars; down 100 millions.

Social and economic programs—Two billion, 714 million dollars, up 417 millions, for old age pensions, medical care insurance program, vocational rehabilitation, railroad retirement, etc.

Housing—One billion, 329 million dollars, an increase of 323 millions, for aid to private housing, public housing construction, slum clearance.

Agriculture—Two billion, 206 million dollars, a cut of 464 million.

Natural resources—Two billion, 218 million dollars, a boost of 373 millions, including 817 millions for atomic energy, 563 millions for the army engineers' civil functions and 398 millions for the reclamation bureau.

Education—300 million dollars to the states for schools.

President Truman stated that the expenditure of 13 1/2 billion dollars for defense would provide for "balanced land, naval and air forces" consisting of one million, 507 thousand officers and men, a reduction of 40,000 from Dec. 31, 1949.

The army would contain 630,000 men, a cut of 9,000; the navy and Marine Corps 461,000, a reduction of 31,000, and the air force 416,000, the same as now.

The president asked congress to authorize the military establishment to obligate 13 billion, 700 million dollars in the 1951 fiscal year, including four billions for the army, 3.9 billions for the navy and 4.4 billions for the air force.

The army would include 10 divisions, the navy would have an active fleet of 652 ships, including 238 combat vessels; the Marine Corps would maintain six battalion landing teams, and the active air force would be organized into 48 groups of about 8,800 planes. Actual naval forces would have 5,900 planes.

County Firemen To Meet Wednesday

Lawrence County Firemen's association will have its first meeting of the new year on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Princeton fire hall, with the Slippery Rock Township Department as hosts.

Several county departments, who are not affiliated with the association, are expected to send representatives to this meeting, and a good program of entertainment is being arranged. Plans for the coming year will also be discussed during the evening.

country to see for myself what it is and to thank the people of the United States for what they have done for the more unfortunate people of the world."

Lebanon has a government fashioned somewhat after the government of the United States. The one difference is that our legislative branch is unicameral, that is it has only one house, the Senate instead of two.

"Much is heard now of an attempt to join all the nations of our part of the world into one nation, independent, will resist the attacks of the Communists."

Thomas George of New Castle was the chairman of the evening with Thomas Joseph as the co-chairman. Opening the dinner Miss Julia John, New Castle's own mezzo-soprano, sang the Star Spangled Banner accompanied by Mrs. Jessie Nelson Reed. Miss John is presently living in Los Angeles, but is home for a short visit with her mother.

The invocation was delivered by Rev. Francis M. McCarter, rector of St. Mary's church.

Other Speakers

A number of other speakers were heard. Prof. W. W. Strong, of Harrisburg, spoke upon some fairly recent discoveries of carved rocks in York county. According to Prof. Strong there is every reason to believe that the Carthaginians landed upon this continent in 371 B.C.

"There is much to prove this contention," said Prof. Strong. "A large cache of Carthaginian gold money was found in the Azores and being the hardy seafaring men they were, it is reasonable to believe they came further west."

"In York county we have found many pieces of stone with Carthaginian carving on. Prof. Strong showed several pieces and pictures of many more."

Others Speak

Joseph Ayat of Alliquippa spoke briefly as did Joseph Shafend of Youngstown. Rev. Elias Nader pastor of St. John the Maronite church of New Castle spoke briefly and delivered the benediction.

Local speakers included Mayor John F. Haven who welcomed the guests, Judge W. Walter Braham County Commissioner Joseph F. Travers and City Councilmen Joseph Medure and Richard I. Davis. Judge Braham recalled the fact that during the Crusades, the Phoenicians, from whom the Lebanese are descended were the only Christian people in the east to go to the aid of the Crusaders.

During the evening the music of the native "aoud", a reed instrument was heard.

Alex Besharo was chairman of the ticket committee.

Senator Karam has speaking engagements in a number of other cities with his main address of the trip to be delivered in Detroit.

GAS PRESSURE
Like Rock in Stomach
One New Castle man stated that for 10 years he felt like he had a rock in his stomach. This feeling was due to the lump of undigested food he always had inside of him. His food would turn to gas. Recently he started taking CERTA-VIN and says the feeling like a rock in his stomach disappeared the second day. Now his food agrees with him, no more gas and he feels like a new man.

Court House
Kipling Wrong
About Females
Not "Deadlier Than Male"
According To Lawrence
County Jail Records

OTHER EVENTS
IN COURT HOUSE

According to Rudyard Kipling the "female of the species is more deadly than the male."

Taint so, according to the records of the Lawrence county Jail. Sheriff Frank L. Coen denies the allegation and shows that more crime is committed by males than females.

The proportion is something like 20 to one, according to the sheriff. His Saturday jail roster proves his point. There were 22 prisoners for lunch Saturday, of which 21 were male and only one female.

The 1949 record of prisoner days spent in the Lawrence county Jail is being prepared by the county controller just now. In a few days it will be released and will undoubtedly show that while Kipling was an excellent poet, he did libel the female sex a bit.

NO CENSUS TAKER YET

It begins to appear that United States Senator Francis J. Myers will have to settle the brannigan in the 25th Congressional District over the appointment of the chief census taker for the Lawrence, Beaver, Butler district.

Some time ago the Democratic county chairman of the three counties, John B. Shaw, of Lawrence, Hutchinson of Butler and Hardy of Beaver were asked to join in a recommendation for a census taker.

The three are said to have agreed upon Cami G. Preston, a former member of the General Assembly. Some 10 days ago a meeting of anti-organization Democrats was held in Pittsburgh and this group agreed upon a woman from Aliquippa and pressed their claims.

Senator Myers is faced with selecting a census taker and a deputy from the recommendation of the two groups. He has indicated that he may come to the western end of the state and settle the dispute.

In the meantime this district is said to be the only district in the state which has not had a census taker appointed.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK
By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Should Parents Respect the Child?
Every now and again one hears or reads a statement such as this: "If adults expect respect from children they first must show respect to them."

But what does it mean to show respect to children? Different people undoubtedly have different answers. Here's a try from my corner.

1. First and foremost, we should try to understand the why's and wherefores of youngsters' behavior. Children, like adults, have reasons for what they say and do. Before we judge harshly or inflict punishment, we owe it to the child to try to understand.

2. No matter how trying a youngster may be, neither sarcasm nor ridicule should come from the grownup. To attack an individual's respect for himself with a cutting phrase or a sneer is too strong medicine.

3. There should be no prying into what the child considers his privacy. Few adults care to have others read their letters without permission. Few accept verbal prying about matters that they feel are their own concern. There would seem to be no sound reason why children should be treated differently from grownups in this respect.

There are, naturally, other important considerations when one thinks about respect for children, but the three mentioned above are significant ones.

The department announced it would "take proper action to carry out its moral obligation in the control and elimination of Bang's disease in Crawford county according to the area plan."

State Highways Fatalities Drop

Increase In Travel And Gas Consumption But Death Total 82 Under 1948 Figure

HARRISBURG, Jan. 9.—(INS)—Motorists killed 1,566 persons on the state highways and streets in 1949, the highway safety advisory committee has announced.

This total was 82 under auto fatalities for 1948.

The drop was made in spite of increased travel in the state for the fifth successive year and a five percent jump in gasoline consumption over previous year, according to the committee.

The agency reported that when national safety council death figures are computed for 1949, the total will be the lowest in Pennsylvania's history and below the national average.

The bureau of highway safety suspended and revoked 31,294 licenses in 1949 which bettered the previous high of 29,707 in 1941.

Gov. James H. Duff said while he was pleased with last year's results he expected lower figures in 1950 ordered Col. C. M. Wilhelm, Commissioner of the Pennsylvania State Police and Revenue Secretary Otto F. Messner to crack down more on speeders and other traffic violators.

Traffic arrests exceeded 100,000 in 1949 in addition to 19,000 suspensions for speeding. Governor Duff noted that improved accident figures over the recent holidays reflected cooperation of both motorists and authorities.

He also credited police departments, automobile clubs, service organizations, schools, newspapers and radio stations for their efforts to reduce traffic accidents.

SUGGESTIONS ON BUYING OF NEW FURNITURE

If the gift money received for Christmas is going to be spent for a new upholstered chair or davenport, then you want to know what to look for when selecting it.

A covering in color and design to harmonize with furnishings already on hand is of first importance. A style that fits in with the size of the room and furniture already in the room must be considered.

If the label does not give information on the construction of the chair or davenport, then it must be examined carefully or questions asked to secure information in regard to it. Hardwood is best for the frame. There should be triangular blocks in the four corners of the seat, preferably of hardwood, glued or screwed to the seat frame. All joints for the seat frame should be dovetailed and glued.

The seat is the foundation for the springs and cushion and must bear the weight of persons sitting on it. Look for the number of springs, and see how they are held together, and the type of padding used. Some of the higher priced furniture today is padded with foam rubber.

So in the chair or davenport before making your final selection. Is it comfortable? Is it too low or too deep in the seat? Can you get out of it easily and gracefully? Remember these are important features, if you are one of the folks to be using it.

State Farm Show To Get Under Way Today

By JOHN PAGET
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 9.—The Pennsylvania Farm Show opening today in five million dollar headquarters at Harrisburg has a history dating back almost a century.

The mammoth farm exposition, largest under one roof in the nation, has its roots in a "State Fair" held at Harrisburg in October, 1851.

During the next 31 years, the fair was held annually in a different city and in 1882 it was decided to settle down. The managers looked around and chose a site in North Philadelphia, $80,000 worth of buildings were erected.

The financial panic of 1888 closed the organization and the old road show schedule was revived until 1899 when lack of interest and money wrote finis to the project.

Activity Slackens

Between the turn of the 20th century and 1917 there was little to interest farmers on a state level although a few horticulture organizations met at Harrisburg for the next 16 years. The interest burgeoning from the informal farm meetings between the Spanish-American War and World War I prompted a group of farm-minded state officials and leaders of Pennsylvania's farm industry to establish the Pennsylvania Farm Show in 1917.

It was held each year at Harrisburg with exhibits scattered through all available halls; it was not until 1929 that the General Assembly allocated $1,700,000 for the main building. Several years later a similar sum was set aside for additions while work done more recently has pushed the value of the physical plant past the $5,000,000 mark. The overall value of the buildings and equipment plus the land at today's prices probably would exceed $12,000,000.

Ten years after the founding of the Pennsylvania Farm Show, the officials set up a State Farm Show Commission and each biennium since the Legislature has appropriated money for prizes and awards.

Huge Crowds

Down through the years, the huge exposition has attracted millions of visitors; attendance this year will pass the 500,000 mark unless exceptionally bad weather curbs the throngs which swarm through the buildings.

Its success, which continues to grow with each year, stems from education and cooperation, according to State Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst.

The improvement of farm exhibitions during the last half of the last century ended when lack of interest among a majority of the state's farmers was greater than the desire of far-seeing leaders to do a better job.

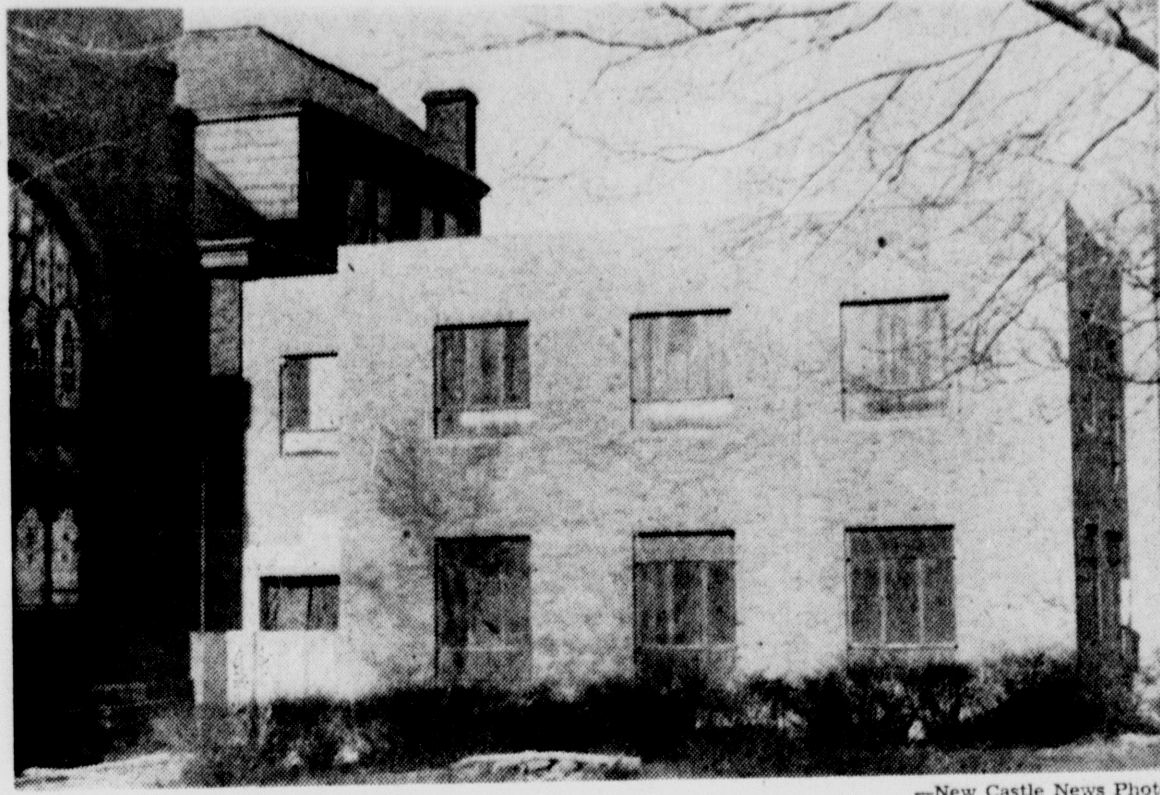

"And then came the Farm Show," explains Horst. "Why? To demonstrate, to emphasize, to dramatize in a practical and convincing manner that through seeing we believe, and, through believing we can do a thing and do it better. That is grass roots education. That is why half a million people will come to the 1950 Farm Show."

Farmers Cooperate

"Cooperation has been the life blood of Farm Show operation," he explains. There would be little to show if it were not for the fact that our farm people so fully realize that it is a Farm Show by farmers and for farmers."

The 1950 Farm Show has more than 400 commercial exhibitors or 100 more than last year despite the boycott imposed this year by the "big line" farm machinery makers to protest an increase in rentals. Ten thousand separate exhibits have been laid out and a record-breaking 1,687 head of livestock placed in the barn. The poultry show alone will feature more than 4,500 birds.

Second U. P. Church Addition To Be Ready On April 1

Occupancy by April 1, is planned by the Second U. P. church County Line at Milton street, for the new two story memorial addition which has been erected to the east of the church building. Picture above shows the building progress at present. The first floor of the structure contains a church office, pastor's study, social room, ladies' parlor and kitchenette. The second story will house a fine assembly room and seven class rooms, which will be used jointly by the Sunday school and the religious education classes which are conducted weekly in the school. Appropriate dedicatory ceremonies for the new structure are being planned by the church officials.

Former Local Man's Son Home Following 13 Year's Absence

Son Of Former Residents Had Been Declared Legally Dead At Johnstown

Mrs. William Alexander, 509 County Line, rejoiced along with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis in Johnstown over the week end when she heard that their missing son and her nephew, Ben Lewis, was returning home after an absence of over 13 years.

Young Ben, whose parents formerly resided here before making their home in Johnstown, left the supper table one day in November 1936 and had never been heard of, or seen by any members of the family since that day until Friday.

After leaving home, Ben hiked to Cumberland and Baltimore, Md. and following the securing of jobs in several places, he decided to change his name to Kennedy, to avoid tracing by his family. The first two years he sent greetings to his mother from southern cities, but no word after that.

Declared Legally Dead

After the seven year limit, Ben's parents had him declared legally dead. But Mrs. Lewis still didn't lose hope and prayed almost daily for the return of her son.

The family pastor, Rev. Charles Pennington called the home last Friday, saying he had a surprise for the family, as young Ben first contacted him before coming home. The reunion was one of rejoicing as tears of joy flowed down the cheeks of members of the family.

According to Ben, it was at the urging of his wife whom he had married during his service in the army at Columbia, S.C., that he finally came back. The couple have two small children who did not make the trip with their parents.

To share in their good news, the Lewis families motored to New Castle Saturday coming to the Alexander home on County Line street where a family dinner took place. Mrs. Alexander had 24 around the dinner table for the happy occasion.

The long lost youth and his wife have returned to their home in South Carolina where Ben is employed with the Veteran's Administration.

Organ Representative

Investment of less than $2000 required. Also respectable home or high-grade store space for displaying same. Write 318, care News.

Mrs. Louis Sontag To Address N.S.A.

New Castle Chapter of the National Secretaries Association will meet on Thursday, January 19, for the monthly dinner-meeting in the First Christian church, this city. The full course dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock, and following the group will have the opportunity of hearing as speaker of the evening, Mrs. Louis Sontag, of Youngstown, O., well known lecturer. She will speak on the subject, "Personality Fashions."

Fire Causes $7,000 Damage To Home In New Wilmington

Residence Of R. W. Price Guttered By Fire On Saturday Afternoon

A fire that began in the basement gutted the interior of the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Price, 188 Beechwood road, New Wilmington, Saturday afternoon, making the family, and nine Westminster college students temporarily homeless.

The fire, which was discovered about two o'clock started near the furnace. It is reported by Fire Chief George Brown, of the New Wilmington Volunteer Fire Department, and burned up through the third floor.

Filled With Smoke
The house was filled with smoke when the firemen arrived at the scene and it was impossible to locate the blaze. As a result water had to be sprayed throughout the house, adding damage to the furniture and other fixtures.

Loss to the house and fixtures was estimated at $7,000 by Fire Chief Brown.

Westminster College students living at the house were: Basil Messeri, Lowellville; Frank and Walter Legg, Turtle Creek; James Spangler, Somerset; Bennett Fluke, Blairsville; Richard Ingraham, Chicago, Ill.; Jack Cooper, New Kensington; Alex Chambers, New Wilmington; and Carl Mentsch, Johnstown.

The college students were roomers in the upper stories of the house and lost most of their possessions, including books and notebooks. They are being temporarily housed in college dormitories and near-by homes.

Motorists Crash On Harlansburg Road

State police reported that two cars came together at the intersection of Routes 108 and 388 on the Harlansburg road at 9:45 a. m. today, causing damage of $250 to the cars and slight injuries to the occupants of the vehicles.

John K. Carcase, aged 31, 481 Virginia avenue, Rochester, Pa., according to police, was traveling north on 388 when he was looking for a direction sign failing to see a stop sign. He pulled out into the center of the Harlansburg road, before coming to a stop. A car driven by Thomas E. Locke, aged 70, of R. D. 4, struck the Carcase machine.

Locke suffered a bruised left knee and a bloody nose.

More New Firms For State In '50

More Than 50,000 Businesses
Established In State In Last Five Years

HARRISBURG, Jan. 9.—(INS)—Pennsylvania, Keystone of the world, can expect in 1950 a continuing increase in number of new business firms.

In the five years since 1944, the U. S. Department of Commerce reports, 52,400 new firms established their business in Pennsylvania.

Reasons Cited

Today Pennsylvania's Department of Commerce justifies an even brighter future outlook based on:

- (1) The state's great variety of raw materials.
- (2) Variety and abundance of semi-finished goods which are the raw materials of certain industries.
- (3) Abundant power facilities.
- (4) A labor population loaded with skilled and semi-skilled workers whose abilities can be adapted to any type of new industry.
- (5) Favorable tax rates.
- (6) Half the purchasing power of the nation centered in a marketing area within 500 miles of the state.

Below Average

Pennsylvania, averaging a 27 per cent increase in number of new firms during the last five years, was below the national average of 30 per cent, federal figures showed. The far west went ahead 56 per cent, the southwest 46 per cent, and the southeast 43 per cent.

However, Pennsylvania had more to start with than states in other areas, and the full significance of increases are not reflected in percentage figures.

1946 Boom

Pennsylvania's total of 193,000 firms in operation in March, 1944, rose to 245,000 in March, 1949. The boom year was 1946, when 31,000 new firms were recorded. While in 1944 only 9,000 Pennsylvania businesses were discontinued, 18,200 perished in 1943.

Yet, State Commerce department officials consider the future outlook good. New plants will continue to enter the state, they say, and existing plants will expand.

Large Investment

Regardless of national percentages, they emphasize that expenditures for capital investment for new industries in Pennsylvania are far above the national average. So is the rate of gain in income in Pennsylvania, they say.

Reduced freight charges to businessmen are cited as another attractive lure. Proximity of coal and steel resources place Pennsylvania far ahead in the quest for new capital.

Furthermore, abundant electrical power is at the disposal of incoming firms, commerce officials say, without the need of TVA-type help to acquire it.

NEW STRAWBERRIES

DAVIS, Calif.—Two new varieties of strawberry have been developed by the University of California college of agriculture here. Called the Campbell and Cupertino, they are expected to mature at different times and thus spread the growing season farther. Both are described as fresh market types, not particularly suited to canning or freezing.

State To Codify Mental Health Law

Legislative Subcommittee To Submit Recommendations In 1951 Assembly

HARRISBURG, Jan. 9.—(INS)—A Joint State Government Commission subcommittee anticipated codification of the state's mental health laws.

The commission will submit recommendations to the 1951 General Assembly.

A 27-year-old Mental Health Act is the basic law in force but miscellaneous acts before 1923 have not been eliminated. A study will indicate the advisability of repealing them.

The subcommittee's aim is to present one act embracing all features of mental health. It will not attempt to change the law, only to clarify it. Codification was recommended by the commission after reviewing existing acts during the last biennium.

Legal Provisions

Provisions of mental health statutes include admission and discharge of insane persons, conduct of physicians, the rights of habeas corpus in insanity proceedings, maintenance rates, and interpretation and definition of what concerns mentally deficient persons.

Chairman of the Mental Health Laws subcommittee is Rep. T. Luke Toomey, (R) Perry, Sen. Bertram G. Frazier, (R) Philadelphia, is vice chairman.

Other members are: Reps. James C. Brice, (R) Lawrence county; Harold George Miller, (R) Blair county; and Russell E. Reese, (D) Washington county; Senators Elmer J. Holland, (D) Allegheny county; Charles R. Mallory, (R) Blair county; and G. Robert Watkins, (R) Delaware county.

Good Taste

By FRANCES MARTEL

PESSIMISTIC LETTERS

"Since my sister has married and left the city, she writes to mother and the rest of us about once a week, which is entirely proper, I admit. Her letters are the worst killjoys I have ever seen. I know that she is happily married, with good health and a comfortable and attractive home; but she always has been a great one for looking on the dark side of things. Don't you think it is in very bad taste to write depressing letters constantly?"

Answer: I do, indeed, think she is acting in bad taste, in addition to which she will eventually cut off every tie she now has for no one except possibly her family will listen to her constant tales of woe. Hers are particularly inexcusable if, as you state, she is really comfortably situated in an attractive home and in good health.

There are some people who will be dissatisfied with the Pearly Gates when they get there. We should all make it a rule when letter writing to avoid filling pages with bad news.

If Johnny has had the whooping cough or big brother has lost his job, do not elaborate on these items and fill your letter with jeremiads and agonize over your ill fortune.

These matters may be of great importance to you; but by doting on your troubles and giving your friends an overdose of them, you will be marked as a bore and a killjoy and be avoided by all who know you.

Letters, as well as conversation, should be in the most polite terms, avoiding in both an over-use of the pronoun "I." Such expressions as "I should have written sooner but I really haven't had time" are better left unsaid. The recipient of a letter containing such uncomplimentary remarks will feel far from flattered to know that he is of so little importance.

Both your conversation and your letters should be filled with more inquiries about the other person's welfare than information about his own affairs.

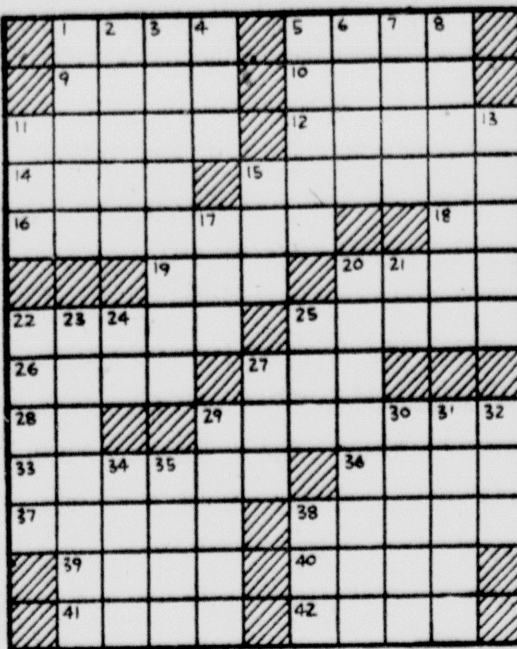

Present your problems to Miss Martel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

BORERS BORE FARMERS

ST. PAUL, Minn.—State entomologists estimated that the European corn borer caused $40,000,000 damage to Minnesota's corn crop in 1949. To combat the borer, agricultural specialists are trying to develop a hybrid resistant to the pest.

State Police Say:

"Children should be seen but not hurt" is a modern adaptation of an old saying. Children are being taught in school to avoid unsafe practices and do so when they think about it, but we grown-ups must consider that children are impulsive and forget easily. It is up to us to remember when they forget. Watch out for children not only in school zones, school bus stops and playground areas, but while walking or playing along the highway. We could cut Pennsylvania's traffic death rate among school children by 50% if we would drive with the thought in mind that every child is YOUR child.

"Assignment; America"

By INEZ ROBB

(Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
(Distributed By International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek is about to receive a large and personally conducted packet of vitamins, the twentieth century's counterpart of pink-pills-for-pale-people.

They—the vitamins—already have been purchased and packed by Mme. Chiang. She is leaving momentarily for Formosa to join her husband on the island they hope to make a Nationalist bridgehead for return to the Chinese mainland.

The generalissimo is well, the "misemo" said a few days ago when I talked with her in her temporary home in suburban Riverdale, ten miles from the center of New York City. But like most wives, she thinks vitamins will make a husband well, and she intends that the generalissimo shall take his.

Concerning her own health, which has been precarious in the past five years, Mme. Chiang said "it is as good as can be expected" and dismissed the subject.

Beautiful Woman
Mme. Chiang is surely one of the most beautiful women in the world, as beautiful as the most extravagant legends about her. She looked reed-slim and elegant on this occasion in a native gown of black silk Chinese brocade, the neck and hem-line beaded in two thin rows of jet.

She looked infinitely decorative, her small slim hands tipped with scarlet lying quietly in her lap, as she discussed with logic and assurance the Chinese crisis. She seemed completely unconcerned with the problems of every-day living on Formosa.

"I understand my husband and I have a bungalow," she said as she offered me a cup of delicious Chinese tea. "But I've lived in mud huts, in railway stations, anywhere and everywhere while I have campaigned in the field with him."

"So you see I am not worried about living conditions, since I've gone with him on all his campaigns in the twenty-three years we've been married."

There is nothing more appealing than a woman who speaks well and warmly in behalf of her husband. The generalissimo has never had a more ardent advocate than his wife. She spoke of Chiang with a glowing warmth.

"I hope and pray every day that my husband, like former President Hoover, will live to see himself justified and vindicated for the path he has followed."

"I know what his place in history will be, but I hope that he, like Mr. Hoover, will live to know that he has won the respect of his one-time critics."

Mme. Chiang said she receives many encouraging letters from all sections of the United States that reaffirm her faith "in the fundamental sense of goodness and justice in man."

"I am so often impressed by little stories in the daily papers," she said. "A child needs a blood transfusion to live and hundreds of volunteers come forward to offer life to that child. There is the divine spark operating in man."

"I'm certain no one ever feels quite equal to the task ahead of him. But when something has to be done, one must throw his heart, strength and soul into it. I am certain that God never gives us burdens we cannot bear."

The real strength of man is moral and spiritual, Mme. Chiang continued, and nothing can defeat and overpower such strength.

"When one realizes that there is nothing to fear, not even death, then one can go on fighting for those values which are eternal," she added.

None of us can afford to consider man's return to slavery, no matter what the cost of ourselves. No matter what happens to us, mankind must go on.

"God's will is inscrutable. But one cannot, one dare not, doubt it."

NEW YORK.—The Automobile Club of New York says that 45 per cent of the emergency road service calls it receives in the winter come from motorists whose cars have been disabled by battery failure.

Nearly Accurate Tornado Forecasts Nearing Reality

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Tornado forecasts as daily weather predictions may be just around the corner.

Two young Air Force weather officers disclosed today that limited tests in Oklahoma over a twenty-month period indicate that areas of probable tornado formations can be charted successfully in advance.

The officers, Major E. J. Fawbush, 34, of Shreveport, La., and Capt. R. C. Miller, 29, of Los Angeles, Calif., will discuss their project today at the thirtieth anniversary convention of the American Meteorological Society in St. Louis.

Major Fawbush was careful to stress, in an exclusive interview with the International News Service, that "maybe we had a lucky year" or possibly the system cannot be applied outside the Texas-Oklahoma-Kansas Tornado belt.

But in that region, he said, he and Captain Miller are "well satisfied" with their results.

They hope that the air force will find a way to expand the research, testing its validity in other parts of the country and abroad.

The airmen explain that tornadoes, so far, cannot be pinpointed in advance. But they are pleased at their success in charting sections, up to 150 miles in diameter, where the winds could hit.

The Charles Inboden family of East Palestine, O., and Mrs. Martha Crook and son of Fairfield, were guests in the Harry Hartford home New Year's day.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whipple moved to Beaver last week.

New Year's Eve, Miss Jeannie Mibuck was hostess to a group of teen-agers at a party in the home of her parents. A buffet lunch was served by the hostess, aided by a number of her guests.

Mrs. H. C. Dudas and baby daughter, Patricia Mary Ann, returned to their home here, Wednesday, January 4, from the Providence hospital at Beaver Falls.

FENCE DISAPPEARS

GLEN COVE, N. Y., Jan. 9.—(INS)—Police out at fashionable Glen Cove, Long Island, are looking for a fence who deals in fences. They are hunting for a fence, which once was planted firmly in the ground around the retreat of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations at Glen Cove.

The fence, 125 feet long weighs two tons. It is worth, brand new, about four American bucks a foot, or $500 an all.

The Glen Cove cops said they can't find out much about it, since the Russians weren't talking.

Whatever the secret of the vanishing fence, it has now gone the way of all mesh.

Register Your Date In G.N.C.A. Office

Due to the fact there was no central dating bureau for civic events, there has sometimes been overlapping of affairs in New Castle.

Some time ago the Greater New Castle Association started a "date record" book which recorded activities scheduled ahead by organizations in the city.

The GNCA is preparing its 1950 "date record." If affairs such as dinners, mass meetings and the like are turned in to the GNCA office, other organizations can see whether or not their tentative date overlaps.

It is a convenience that should be used.

About 1,580,000 Marriage In '49

Decline Of One Eighth From 1948 But Above Pre-War Level

NEW YORK, N. Y., Jan. 9.—About 1,580,000 couples embarked upon matrimony in the United States in 1949, according to the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

This is a decline of one eighth from 1948 and nearly one third less than the all-time peak of 2,291,000 marriages in 1946. The decrease reflects in large part the extent to which the number of unmarried men in the population has been reduced by the phenomenal boom in marriages during the immediate postwar years.

The down trend in marriages from 1948 to 1949 was nationwide, somewhat more pronounced in the major cities than in the smaller communities, and most marked in the northern tier states from the Atlantic to the midwest, where the decline was 14 per cent. In the south and the west the decrease was about 11 per cent.

In the popular divorce and marriage centers of Reno and Las Vegas the drop in marriages was 12 to 15 per cent, respectively. New York City recorded a decline of one seventh and Los Angeles a decline of one tenth. Reduction within this range were registered in Chicago, Detroit and Philadelphia.

Despite recent declines, the yearly number of marriages is still above the prewar level, and the marriage rate is higher than the average for the four decades from the beginning of the century to Pearl Harbor," the statisticians comment.

LICENSED SEALS

WASHINGTON.—The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service tagged 20,000 fur seal pups in the Pribilof islands, off Alaska, this past summer, making 58,000 tagged since the project began in 1947. The service hopes to obtain information on rate of seal growth, percentage killed by killer-whales and other enemies, travel habits, etc.

CONTROLLER TO CHECK
Municipal Assessor George Patterson, city hall, has placed in custody of the controller, Charles A. Kennedy, his assessment books for the year 1949, all assessments for that year having been completed.

The controller must check the figures, after which the books will be given to the school board, where the figures will be copied into their assessment books.

COLLEGE CONFERENCE

The storm in the National Collegiate Athletic Association over subsidies for college football players may lend some more pointed food for thought for the formation of a small college conference in this area.

A few major college football powers are already on the spot. A score or more of others are under direct investigation, for evasion of payments to collegians is scheduled to cause a big blow when the NCAA meets in its annual confab in New York later this month.

Avery Brundage, the straight-laced head of the U. S. Olympic committee, has sounded off that by Olympic standards, the recipients of aid, even within the bounds of the present purity code of the NCAA, are professionals.

Now the U. S. government has hinted that tax officials are going to investigate, for evasion purposes, some of the "salaries" paid to collegiate grid luminaries.

An organization meeting was held last month of several small district colleges in order to discuss plans for forming a Foothills Collegiate Conference. Not much was reported to the public after the meeting but all were not hearts and flowers between all of the schools. Another meeting was scheduled for spring.

Others Interested
The unofficial list of charter members includes Waynesburg, Westminster, Carnegie Tech, Geneva, Washington and Jefferson, Bethany and Allegheny. Thiel and Grove City have been mentioned as eighth members of the conference. St. Vincent and Gannon have also expressed an interest.

One of the difficulties in the formation of the conference is the apparent discrepancy in basketball power among the so-called members. Schools like Westminster, Geneva, Bethany and W. & J. normally are much stronger in basketball and sometimes rate in the national or mythical eastern standings.

The "have-nots" are balking at serving as fuel for hot records of the big cage powers.

An athletic head of one of the schools recently declared: "We don't mind playing in an unofficial conference but we don't want to become part of a high-pressure set up and we don't want to become obligated to play all of the member schools. We want to keep a little independence in choosing our schedule."

We're all for you brother. It's your school and you should run its athletic policy. The situation in basketball definitely has a wide gap in regard to relative strength between conference teams.

How about football?

Have Sane Code
Nationally, there is an odor brewing. Why not try out a formal conference organization in the grid sport. Form a ten-team conference of district small colleges. Adopt a uniform "sanity code" concerning recruiting, scholarships, training table, etc., that is really sane.

Each school could schedule five conference foes as in the Big Ten and the winner be decided on a percentage basis.

Judging from the records, there is not too much pressure by alumni or active recruiting for players in these schools. Why not organize a football conference with everything above board, and strict adherence to a standard set of rules in regard to "providing" for players.

The benefits or handicaps derived from the football conference could then be used as a yardstick in the formation of an all-sport organization.

Penn State's 1949 all-junior cross-country team will return in fact for the 1950 campaign.

NCAA Will Discuss Problems This Week

By KEN OPSTEIN

(International News Service Sports Writer)

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—The fate of athletics at seven universities, football's controversial substitution rule, what to do about the mushrooming bowl games and a problem child known as television will highlight the NCAA's 44th annual convention in New York next week.

Secretary Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson of the National Collegiate Athletic Association in Chicago said in Chicago that approximately 1,000 athletic directors, coaches of football, basketball, baseball and track will attend the meetings January 13-14.

Charge Professionalism
The Big Ten athletic commissioner said the 279 NCAA members must decide at the meetings whether they want to eject or retain the seven institutions that the group's compliance committee has recommended for ouster. The yet unidentified schools are charged with professionalism.

The American Association of Football Coaches will hold its all important session before the NCAA conclave begins. The coaches, meeting January 11 and 12, probably will announce a proposal regarding platoon-system football.

Many coaches of small colleges believe free substitution discriminates against them. Coaches at large universities generally favor it and say it gives more boys a chance to play.

The NCAA will act on the increasing number of football and basketball bowl games. A committee on those contests met in Chicago last August and recommended among other things that the competing schools be paid 80 per cent of the event's receipts.

Will Take Vote
This proposal will be placed before the convention for a vote. The recommendation is almost certain to be approved since the major bowls are already complying with the monetary stipulation.

The Eastern Intercollegiate Conference has stated its opposition to television and has labeled it an "attendance killer."

There has been checkered opposition in the Midwest and the Pacific coast areas. A spokesman for the NCAA believed, however, that the matter would be left to the individual schools or conferences.

Two amendments which would permit training tables and one which would bar tryouts also are on the convention's agenda. The Southwestern, Southeastern and Southern Conferences are jointly sponsoring a suggestion for a year-around training table.

Morellas Await Broadway Clowns

FAMOUS KING TUT

Negro basketball's most sensational showmen of the court, the New York Broadway Colored Clowns, appear at New Castle against the Morella All-Stars on the Arena floor, starting at 4 o'clock, Sunday, January 15.

The New York Broadway Colored Clowns basketball team was organized for the 1948-1949 season when they played a total of 65 games, winning 53 of them. They played in 12 states throughout the East and established themselves as one of the leading road attractions of the year.

King Tut Features
The team has been greatly strengthened for the 1949-1950 season. Many new players have been added to the roster to give the team additional height also defensive and improved offensive strength.

The New York Broadway Colored Clowns will again feature the inimitable "King Tut." Tut is the famous full time comedian for the nationally famous Indianapolis Clowns baseball team of the Negro American League.

The King is in fine fettle this year and putting on a better routine of pantomime than ever. Each season you find him coming up with some new antics to wow the fans. One of his famous antics is chasing referees and opposing players with chinese firecrackers.

Two amendments which would permit training tables and one which would bar tryouts also are on the convention's agenda. The Southwestern, Southeastern and Southern Conferences are jointly sponsoring a suggestion for a year-around training table.

In the prelim the Voimo girls of Warren defeated the Shenango Pottery "Clay Pigeons" 35 to 10.

Score Saturday Is 36 To 30, Bob Gavett Outstanding Star

Bob Gavett, Freddy Cassell, Bob Braun and Paul Fenwick took first places here Saturday afternoon as Westminster college swimmers defeated the Edinboro State Teachers college swim team, 36-30. It was the second Titan victory in two starts.

Gavett Top Scorer
Gavett's first place and second place performances won him top scoring honors for the Titans. The Plainfield, N. J. sophomore led the Burrymen in their first triumph last month at Grove City college.

City League To Elect Officers

President Len Gilbert Says He Will Not Be A Candidate

Managers of the City Baseball league will meet at Carm DeLeon's barber shop at 8 o'clock Friday night for the purpose of electing 1950 officers. Franchises will be given out and plans for the coming baseball season will be discussed.

Len Gilbert, who served successfully as president of the circuit for several years, has announced that he will not be a candidate and under no circumstances will he accept the presidency, even though he be drafted for the position.

In announcing his refusal to serve this year, Mr. Gilbert thanked the managers and ball players for their cooperation during his reign. He said the league has come a long way through cooperation, and he believes the local circuit has a bright future.

Plans will be made to honor the Lawrence Independents, last year's pennant winners, and the Ecclesians club, runner-up. Trophies have been procured and will be awarded at the banquet, the date of which will be arranged at the Friday night meeting.

Boosters Defeat Universals, 56-51

East Brook Boosters blew red-hot in the third period Saturday night at East Brook and came out the 56-to-51 winner over Universals.

It was a close, interesting ball game all the way that saw the visitors outscore the Boosters in every period but the third.

Lanky Bob Carlson, formerly of the University of Pennsylvania, paced the Potters in the clean, fast ball game with 30 points. Universal led 13 to 11 at the end of the first period and 28 to 20 at intermission. Jack Morrow covered Carlson in a defensive switch in the third period and slowed down the big boy while teammates Carl Jameson and Wright sparked the Boosters in a 23-point rally.

The final stanza was a repetition of the first two, but the lead was too great to overcome and the Boosters added another victory.

Mt. Jackson Indies invade East Brook high floor Wednesday night for an encounter with the Boosters.

Rochester Clings To League Lead

(By International News Service)
The Rochester Royals keep on winning basketball games, but the rest of the powerful central division just won't let them build up much of a lead.

Rochester had to play two overtime periods against the central division's cellar team, St. Louis, before it could eke out a 75-73 win last night. The victory, however, meant only preservation of the Royals' 1/2 game lead, because second place Minneapolis dumped Boston, 85-80, in one overtime session.

The Fort Wayne Pistons, currently in a third place tie with Chicago, won handily their game last night over Sheboygan, 83-69. In the only other NBA game last night, the virtually unbeatable Syracuse Nationals belted the Waterloo Hawks, 84-68, to open their lead over New York to seven games.

Junior Church League Results

Six hard fought basketball games formed the Saturday afternoon and evening card of the Junior Church League at the YMCA.

In "A" league competition First Christian downed Central Presby, 43 to 18. Jenkins, Anthony, McConahy, and Montgomery were leading scorers for the winners. First Presby defeated the midwesters Croton, 49 to 19. Cobau and Richards paced the victors; Smith and Benninghoff the losers.

First Baptist won over Second U. P. by the surprising margin of 28 to 14. Branscome led the way with 10.

Third U. P. walked over Epworth 30 to 18. Rapson and Mooney had 12 and 10 respectively. Hares had 13 for the losers. S. S. Alliance beat St. George, 33 to 17. The Phillips brothers collaborated to score 25 for the winners.

First Methodist failed to repeat their first round win over AZA, and succumbed 33 to 28. Larry Haines had 12 for the winners and Bradley sparked the Methodist quintet.

Schedule for next Saturday is as follows: First vs First Presby, Central Presby vs Second U. P., Croton vs First Christian, S. S. Alliance vs Epworth, Third U. P. vs First Methodist, AZA vs St. George.

Phils Send Carnavale To Terre Haute Club

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—(INS)—The Philadelphia Phillies today announced the appointment of Danny Carnavale as player-manager of their Terre Haute farm club in the Three-I League.

The 32-year-old shortstop, a native of Buffalo, N. Y., managed for the Phils last year at Bradford, Pa., in the Pony league and set a record for the circuit with 129 runs batted in. His batting average was .379, in pacing the club to the pennant and playoff.

Rooney Favors 16-Team Loop

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 9.—(INS)—Pittsburgh Steeler President Art Rooney favored a 16-team professional football league today, but he doesn't think it would be possible during 1950.

"I believe 16 teams would help solve our schedule problem," Rooney said in reference to the newly-formed National-American Pro League, "but I doubt if we can get that many this year."

"I agree with Commissioner Bert Bell," Rooney concluded, "there aren't 16 cities in the country that can support pro football. We will have teams that will lose money no matter how many there are in the league."

Bessemer-Wampum To Play Tonight

The Bessemer Legion basketball team has carded the strong Wampum Beatrice Club for a game tonight at the Bessemer High court at 8:15 o'clock it was announced today.

BYRD SEEKING MASTER'S DEGREE

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Jan. 9.—(INS)—Leland Byrd, former West Virginia University All-American basketball star, will return to his Alma Mater to study for a Master's Degree.

He was discharged recently from the Army. Byrd previously had signed to play with the New York Knickerbockers. But under terms of the contract he will be permitted to play with the nearby Clarksville Firemen while studying in Morgantown.

Odd Tackles Of The 1949 Football Season Pictured By Acme Telephoto

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The "hush my mouth" tackle used by Loran Perry (left) University of Washington tackle, has its devotees, too. With one hand clamped across the face of Al Cantor USC back, Perry grabs for Cantor's jacket with the other—and Cantor was dropped. (Right) Arnie Green used the "one-foot hold" to bring down Bob Doyle of Holy Cross. It worked this time, but tacklers have been known to need bridgework after trying it.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—No matter how many hours teams spend at the tackling dummy, coaches aren't suckers for form—all they want is for the rival ball-carrier to be brought down, but fast. Don Menasco (left) of Texas University, used this method of bouncing the carrier, George Thomas, of Oklahoma, on the seat of his trousers. A different approach was used by Johnny Wallis, Auburn, who utilized the "sweater hold" to nab Bill Syoboda, Tulane—but it worked to bring Syoboda down.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Julie Field, Stanford, used this combination shoulder block and shoestring grab to bring down Harvard's Dave Warden with a thump. But it's the "gang approach" (right), used by California players on Wisconsin's Jerry Schaefer, that never should miss. Everybody has fun and the ball-carrier gets a few lumps besides.

WAMPUM BEATRICE WINS GAME, 132-41

Wampum Beatrice basketball team defeated the Youngstown Silents, 132-41, at the Youngstown Y. M. C. A. Saturday night.

Allen Lewis led the Wampum cagers with 36 points, followed by Sonny King with 18. K. Henry was leading scorer for the Silents.

For games with the Beatrice club write to Ralph Ferrucci, Wampum, or call Wampum 4493.

OSMANSKI QUILTS HOLY CROSS JOB

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—(INS)—Bill Osmanski has quit as head football coach of Holy Cross of Worcester, Mass., to return to his Chicago dental practice.

The resignation statement was issued jointly by Osmanski and the Very Rev. John A. O'Brien, S. J., president of the institution.

Jim Gehrdes, Penn State's ace hurler, will be active again during the 1950 indoor campaign.

Marine Corps Quota Remains Unchanged

Not Affected By Recent Army Announcements Concerning Enlistments

Marine Corps recruiting is not affected by the recent announcement that the Army will enlist no men in January, it is announced by Staff Sergeant James E. Rowe, in charge of the Marine Corps recruiting office in New Castle.

Sergeant Rowe pointed out that the Marine Corps is enlisting its normal quota of men and women this month.

Qualified men between the ages of 17 and 31 may sign up for one of the new four or six-year cruises with the Leathernecks. This corps offers the security young Americans demand today. For those who can pass the necessary tests, good food, clothing and quarters are assured, as well as a new high rate of pay.

In addition to the same travel and adventure that has been offered in the past 174 years, the opportunity is available for further education through the Marine Corps institute, the oldest correspondence school in the armed services, Sergeant Rowe states.

There is also the chance of learning a trade through one of the many schools maintained by the corps and through on-the-job training.

For complete information concerning these opportunities contact Sergeant Rowe at the Post Office building.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

ELLWOOD CITY will see a pro boxing show late this month. It will be sponsored by the Lions club . . . Tommy Leach is in a rapturous state over the big names on the January 20 night docket . . . Ivan Rasputin and Bull Montana, who appear in different bouts, are nationally-known . . . Joe Fracul, city parks employee, says the Mahoning avenue pond is filled with water and skating now awaits frigidly . . . Bert Sullivan, popular pharmacist, is getting along as well as can be expected . . . Neil Williams, one of the best known enthusiasts of outdoors life, underwent an operation Saturday in Jameson Memorial hospital . . . And now that local interests have acquired the New Castle Nats, it is certain to stimulate baseball at P. J. Flaherty field . . . Billy Fazzone, local barber, and timekeeper at boxing and wrestling events, will soon auto to Florida . . . More wrestlers, than fighters, "grow" what is known in their sport as "cauliflower" or "tin ears" . . . Foxes shear feathers from the carcass of birds as neatly as if done with a scissors. They eat the head and neck of large prey first. Sports Afield says . . . Recently a fox was captured in a zoo attendant's net in Philadelphia. It had subsisted on pigeons. In 1948, a gray fox was caught hiding among shrubbery on the state capitol grounds at Harrisburg. The whim of wild animals is peculiar.

State Game commission reports show 23 persons were killed and 408 injured in 1949 by hunters' gunfire. The report, as yet, is incomplete. In 1948, 23 were killed and 418 wounded. During Doe Day, one was killed and nine were wounded. In the 1949 bear and deer seasons combined, six persons were killed and 52 wounded, while woodchuck hunters alone killed four and injured 24 in 1949 . . . Game Protector Sickles, Linesville, reports there are 1,000 wild geese at Pymatuning refuge and he believes the birds will remain in the sanctuary this winter . . . Harold McKim, secretary, announces a meeting of the Ellwood City and Wampum Rod and Gun club tonight. Jack Diamond, president, Lawrence County Sportsman's association reports the LCSA will meet January 17, in Eccles hall . . . Jimmie Steiner, former baseball player, who was taken ill and spent some time in the New Castle hospital, has been removed to his Wilmington avenue residence, and is getting along as well as could be expected . . . Although an auctioneer, Glenn Shaffer, 61, 215-pounder, yet retains his interest in boxing . . . Harry Diakovits, who served as a chef for the American forces in Africa to German generals held captive, is a devotee of rabbit hunting.

Government Crop Program Offers Another Feature

Various Support Measures Expected To Keep Farm Land Values Up

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—(INS)—The government is sounding a trumpet for an almost unheralded feature of its crop control program, a sturdy prop for falling land values.

The various control and support measures—intended to maintain a fair level of income for what farmers produce—are expected to keep farm land values from tumbling farther than they would if there were no crop restrictions. The Agriculture department said:

"In general it appears that the level of values in certain areas, and for particular farms, will depend to an increasing extent on the form and type of control and support measures that affect the principal farm products of the areas."

Effects on land values are likely to vary from area to area.

For example, the government points out that the size of acreage allotment has become an important factor in determining the value of a particular farm.

Thus—there is a tendency for current levels of land values to be maintained in these areas as long as the favorable income relationships stick.

Acreage Cut-Backs

In areas where wheat acreage has been greatly expanded during and since the war the expected initial effect of a substantial cut-back in acreage would be to lower the offering prices for wheat land.

Corn allotment effects, however, will not be so plain. That's because the large part of the corn crop is fed on the farms where it is produced.

Farm land value dropped six per cent in 1949 from 1948 levels and the outlook this year seems to show a further decline of about the same proportions.

The government also is concerned about a "serious" lack of insect pollinators.

Wild pollinating insects, agriculture officials say, are going the way of the buffalo—they have virtually disappeared in many localities.

New insecticides and other modern agricultural practices were blamed for the disappearing pollinators.

Honey bees could easily be substituted for wild bees, but agriculture officials say an "alarming number" of beekeepers are giving up their colonies because the price received for honey is below cost of production.
